Thief Chased and Caught by Ryan

Delmar Percifield, Alias "Pussyfoot," Captured As He Fled From Officer at Napa Junction.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, whose experienced eye and unflinching nerve throw fear into the hearts of crooks, ran down and captured another offender last Saturday when he trailed to Napa Junction Delmar Percifield, alias Pussyfoot, a Marin county burglar out on probation.

"Pussyfoot" had abandoned a stolen new Maxwell car Friday in the vicinity of Sonoma Vista, where it was found by Ryan. The officer started a search for its driver and combed every resort in the valley without success. Saturday, however, a suspicious looking character was seen beating his way on an S. P. freight train going south. The deputy sheriff followed the train, but failing to overtake it at Schellville, drove on to Napa Junction. Near that division point, the "hobo" was seen to jump off the freight and take to the highway going toward Napa. Ryan told the driver of his car to step on the gas and follow the suspect.

Pussyfoot immediately got wise that he was being pursued and started to run. When the car overtook the fleeing man, the officer pulled a gun and ordered him to stop. With both hands up Percifield submitted to arrest.

He admitted the theft of the car and was recognized by Ryan as a crook who last summer burglarized a Sonoma Valley store near the springs and was later arrested for a series of thefts at San Rafael. He was in jail in Marin county several months and had only recently been given probation. Just before stealing the Maxwell car from a Mill Valley garage, he had burglarized a Sausalito hotel, a pool room and other places.

He was taken to Santa Rosa by the Sonoma deputy and later turned over to the authorities of Marin county. On Wednesday he started to serve his indeterminate sentence of from one to ten years at San Quentin prison.

While Ryan had him in custody, he was sweated in regard to the robbery at the Sonoma Feed store some time ago. The attempted safe cracking job occurred while Pussyfoot was in Sonoma Valley and he confessed to Ryan that he was implicated in it. He furthermore told of the pawn shop where he hocked articles taken from the store near the springs and two valuable cameras, gold safety razors and other things were recovered by Sonoma's clever peace officer.

Pussyfoot is an Eastern crook, and is a fine appearing fellow, six feet tall and 23 years of age. He registered at two leading resorts of the valley while mapping out a few jobs here this summer.

CARLOAD OF TABLES FROM ADLER MILL

The Adler Furniture factory of Sonoma shipped a carload of handsome library tables to the University of California last week. The tables were massive, of splendid workmanship and weighed over 400 pounds each. They reflected credit on Sonoma's enterprising manufacturer who is rapidly coming to the fore on account of the quality of work turned out at the Sonoma plant on Spain street.

Mr. Adler has been awarded the contract to do all the interior mill work for the state on the new cottage for girls at the Eldridge home.

Daisy Sinkins, the female detective who has figured in every raid and report on Sonoma Valley resorts for some time past, blew into the valley Wednesday with five federal booze sleuths and proceeded to "get" two leading resorts. At Sonoma Grove the party were served refreshments, and after the second round, searched the place with the result that several hundred gallons of wine was found. The proprietor was placed under arrest and the wine sealed.

At Glen Ellen, the six detectives ingratiated themselves with H. G. Buck and after partaking of Mervyn brand hospitality, flashed a warrant on the proprietor.

Bianchini and Buck were released upon furnishing bondsmen in the sum of $1000 each.

Mathilda Baccala Weds Sunday Last. Tomorrow Helen Parker Becomes Bride of Otto Dresel.

Thanksgiving wedding bells are ringing out for well known Sonoma Valley young folks. Last Sunday at San Francisco Rev. Father Nicholas united in marriage Miss Mathilda Baccala and William Merkelbach, a well known grocer of the metropolis. The bride is the handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Baccala of this place and has been employed by the Western Union in San Francisco for the past two years. As Queen Mathilda, she presided over one of Sonoma's successful carnivals a few years ago.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests motored to the States Restaurant where an elaborate banquet was served. Bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts. They will reside in a pretty home in one of the new resident tracts of San Francisco.

Poor Farm Rapped By Grand Juryman

Frank Wedekind, Local Member of Investigating Body, Says County Hospital Condition Is Outrageous.

Frank Wedekind, the Sonoma Valley member of the new grand jury and one of the committee investigating the Sonoma County Hospital and Farm, declares that the poor house and hospital are a disgrace to the citizenry of this part of California, and he will embody many startling allegations in the report to be made by the inquisitorial body. On the committee with Mr. Wedekind are two women members of the 1922 grand jury, Mrs. Gunn of Healdsburg and Mrs. Cavigan of Monte Rio.

Mr. Wedekind, who is an experienced hospital and surgical supply man, decided when put on this committee, that he, for one, would make no perfunctory investigation of conditions at the poor farm, but would go over the ground thoroughly. His first visit revealed enough to convince him that conditions justified detailed investigation and wide sweeping recommendations for betterment.

Despite an upkeep cost of $40,000 per year, the county farm and hospital is reported to be in a dilapidated, antiquated condition. The grand juryman declares that the county hospital is little more than a barn, and not a good barn at that. In the words of Mr. Wedekind, the old structure is "not fit even to house scrub cattle."

Among other things criticized by the grand jury member are the following: Obsolete hospital equipment. Fire danger. Poor sewage. No operating room. No sterilizer. Rusty agate-ware dishes. No isolation for tubercular patients. Broken down wheel chairs. Bed bugs. No warm water. No shelter for old people going from their sleeping quarters to the kitchen.

Mr. Wedekind has made five visits to the farm and after pointing out some of the faults to those in charge of the place, found conditions remedied upon his return. He says that on his first trip dirty old rags flapped from screens supposed to protect tubercular patients. He expressed himself so strongly on this method of caring for county charges that the next time he visited the place he found new white cloth curtains on the screens. The grand juryman says that the supervisors and other county officials see the necessity of better conditions for these unfortunates who must go "over the hill," but that they point out lack of sufficient funds to rebuild or renew equipment.

Mr. Wedekind will stress the necessity of this important work before the grand jury as a whole and seek to find ways and means to provide for the bettering of conditions. It is manifestly unjust, if not pitiful, declares Mr. Wedekind, to see these unfortunate old people, many of whom have been good and useful citizens, lacking the accommodations and the comforts bestowed on inmates of our county jail, to say nothing of the luxuriant environment provided by the State of California for prostitutes, insane and feeble minded charges.

"I am going to make a determined stand for dependents whom poverty and old age has sent over the hill, and it is not going to end with my grand jury service, either," says Mr. Wedekind.

COUNTY ENGINEER VIEWS BRIDGE

County Surveyor R. Press Smith of Santa Rosa was here Thursday consulting with Supervisor Fred Lowell in regard to the bridge over Sonoma creek at Sonoma Vista. Mr. Smith viewed the bridge to ascertain repairs necessary to make the structure safe for the winter months when a new concrete or steel span will be built.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

Mrs. W. Wohlson of Sonoma Vista is in San Francisco shopping and visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Zampa of Alameda were guests at the Rovai home over Sunday.

Mrs. M. Hill of San Francisco has been the guest at the Wohlson home in Sonoma Vista.

Joe White, assistant manager at the Tavern, Verano, was a business visitor to Sacramento the latter part of last week.

Last week at Sacramento Jack Main of Verano, a resort owner, was fined $300 by Judge VanFleet for selling liquor at the above place.

It is rumored that Dr. A. M. Thomson of Sonoma has purchased the Griffith place on the Sonoma road between El Verano and Sonoma.

Captain and Mrs. Muldowney of Alameda are here for several weeks at their country home. They are building an addition to their home.

H. P. and William Goudey, who have been at their summer home in Sonoma Vista have departed for San Francisco to spend the winter season.

Henry Danieli was here from San Francisco Sunday, all dolled up like a regular fellow, visiting old friends. He is a clerk for a rubber company in the bay city.

John Buckland, formerly of this place and who was a property owner, died in the Hetch Hetchy country recently. His many friends will be sorry to learn of his death.

Walter Paulson and the veteran fisherman, John Larsen, were at Napa bridge Sunday. These anglers caught the limit of striped bass, which were running good. Sardines were used for bait.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dowdall and Marian Haraszthy, formerly of Sonoma, but now of San Francisco, were welcome visitors at El Verano Sunday. The party motored from the bay city and their many friends here were glad to see them.

The turkey shoot at El Verano on Sunday, Nov. 26th, is causing great excitement among our sport loving people. These shoots are held by Basileu & Dowdall each year, and the turkeys put up are raised on the famous Dowdall ranch, noted for its fine birds.

Mayor Offerman, of Sonoma Vista spent the week end with Berkeley relatives. The mayor is looking well and feels good over the outcome of the late election. Offerman is a speech maker of note, and was formerly a Francisco politician in the good old days.

Harry Baines, Dave Forni and William Baines, El Verano theatre goers, motored to the Hippodrome theatre in Napa Sunday evening, taking in the show, which was a wonderful display of mixed acts. The boys enjoyed the evening, especially the turns of the pretty actresses.

Elmer Owens and Joe Fields of the Tavern, Verano, are contemplating a trip to Tia Juana with the famous entertainer, Harry Prince. Fields is an international sports promoter and writer, and has been here for several weeks looking over the valley in anticipation of bringing famous pugilists here to train.

Albert Rossi tells the world not to go to Appleby bay duck hunting and we guess Al ought to know, for it cost him $25. Carl Weaver seconds the motion and both have a good gun for sale. John Basileu wants to sell his Evenrude motor boat and Bryan Weaver has a first class Chevrolet car to dispose of. Our friend, Bill Armstrong, who pinched 'em, after the trial at Napa gave the El Verano huntersmen a hearty laugh and invited the boys to call and see him again when they had another $100 to donate to the Napa county treasury.

Last Friday General Manager Dyer, Superintendent T. F. Rowland, Chief Engineer Jackle and Assistant Kirkbude, Division Engineer and Trainmaster Gary Wright were over the Santa Rosa division on a tour of inspection. This was General Manager Dyer's first trip over this division in some time and the officials traveled by private train.

Phil Rossi with a gang of volunteer bridge builders have completed the repairs on the bridge at the north fork of Fowler creek. This is not a county road, but it is rumored that an appeal will be made to the supervisors to help keep up this road, which leads to the residential district of El Verano. The bridge is in fine shape now, following the efforts of our public spirited townsmen.

Great interest is being shown by our party-going people in the grand ball to be given by the Sonoma Y. M. I. on Thanksgiving eve at Union Hall in Sonoma. The proceeds of the affair are to go to the St. Francis building fund and a large crowd will attend this annual ball. The famous Agnetian orchestra of San Francisco will furnish the music and all should turn out to help the good cause and get the new Catholic church started at Sonoma.

Jimmie O'Connell, the $100,000 ball player, formerly of the San Francisco Seals, but who was sold to the New York Giants, is ill with scarlet fever at his Boyes Springs bungalow. Dr. Hays, attending physician, pronounces the noted athlete out of danger. O'Connell, was recently married in San Francisco and has been at the Boyes Springs with his wife. Sonoma admirers of Jiminy hope to see him up and around soon and getting in shape for his new team, the Giants.

One of our fair assistants sent in the following fishy verse (it could be worse):

John Larsen, some fisherman was he,
Went to Brazo; not a fish did he see.

The fish (sea) saw him first and knew of his fame,

So right then and there on him thought they'd frame.

John angled and tangled and the English language mangled,

And everything he did blame.

His partner, Paulson, says it was fate.

John says it was the bait.

But one thing is certain, they both wish to state:

They got no fish!

Poor fish!

Last week, over in the wilds of Napa, the head of our El Verano gun club and three of his ardent followers, while hunting on the salt waters and shooting ducks from a motor boat, were run to earth by two fish commissioners and captured, their guns being taken from them as bail. They were allowed to return among the peaceful and law abiding citizens of El Verano. Monday, in the Napa court, the four huntersmen appeared and were fined $25 per head and were warned by the court to lay off getting ducks by the motor boat method. The boys were getting the limit and many of the local natives were wondering how they did it. The arrest tells the tale and all claim they will never again use a motor boat when hunting ducks.

THE THANKSGIVING SPIRIT IN CALIFORNIA

The Thanksgiving spirit in California is truly expressed in the following beautiful message, sent out to the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West by Grand President Harry G. Williams:

"The custom of our forefathers, hallowed by time and a part of our most sacred traditions, calls our attention this year to the celebration of Thanksgiving Day, November 30, 1922. Never in the history of our great State have we had greater reason for offering thanks to the Almighty than at present. The prosperity of this State, manifested by the development and extension of our commerce and trade, our vastly increased volume of the products of the field, and the remarkable extension of our manufacturing industries, all of which give regular and steady employment to our people and thereby create greater happiness among them. The early pioneers of California in blazing the trails through the wilderness to found this glorious commonwealth, suffered untold hardships and privations, but still felt they had a great deal to be thankful for, so we, of this age, who are the recipients of this heritage, and who enjoy all the comforts of modern times, should individually on Thanksgiving Day, and as a Parlor on the meeting night next before that day, offer praise to the Almighty for His goodness and kindness, and ask His divine guidance for our Order during the coming year. I especially enjoin you that if in your locality there be any families in such circumstances that Thanksgiving Day would be meaningless, render them that assistance which will make it a day of rejoicing."

THE "DRY" HANDWRITING ON THE WALL

The High Apostle of reformers in California, the Honorable Chester Rowell, writer of syndicated stuff for the newspapers, has very recently flashed some 'dry' handwriting on the wall. In short, Rowell is giving away the inmost designs of the reformers to sooner or later stop the shipment of wine grapes. Vineyardists may well feel alarm at such expressions as "The whole thing might stop. If the wine grape shipments stop. So, for whatever time these shipments last," and the crowning jolt about the "open and notorious shipment of grapes fit for nothing but wine." The article from which these allusions are quoted has to do with the question of water and rail shipments of grapes and was as follows:

"The proposal of the wine grape men to ship in future largely by water is one of the best considered of the plans for a proper co-ordination instead of destructive competition between sea and land carriers. If the railroads carry mostly the food grapes and the ships mostly the wine ones, both can be carried, and an other wise impossible problem of transportation will have been solved. Otherwise the conflict between the food grapes and the wine grapes for cars barely sufficient for one would have gone on, with the final victory certain for the food grapes. It is scarcely feasible to expect the railroads to gamble on the permanency of wine grape shipments stop, the ships can be diverted to in new equipment to handle them. The whole thing might stop long before the cars had paid for themselves. Properly arranged ships can carry the wine grapes, in time and in condition to make wine, but they cannot carry food grapes quickly enough. If the wine grape shipments stop, the ships can be diverted to other routes and uses. And cars necessary to forward the grapes on short hauls from the ports will be less of a drain on the total stock than they would be for the long through shipments. For far interior points, enough cars can be spared, if the major cargoes are moved by sea. So, for whatever time these shipments last, it is far better that arrangements be made, as proposed, to move them to a large extent by sea. How long it will last is a gamble. Home brew wine making of dried grapes or diluted grape concen rate, may last indefinitely. It will be against the Eighteenth Amendment, but stopping it would be against the fourth amendment. But the open and notorious shipment of grapes fit for nothing but wine, will finally become too ridiculous to wink at. It is a gamble, in this form. When it is forced into other forms, the transportation problem will be simpler. Meantime, let us the bootleg half of our crop through the canal leaving the railroads largely for the food half."

THE NEW BRIDGE PROJECT

One of the most important projects now pending and one which means everything to the progress of Sonoma Valley and vicinity is the building of the bridge over Carquinez Straits. By linking the shores of Contra Costa and Alameda counties with Solano and permitting through travel which eliminates ferrying to Vallejo, Napa and Sonoma traffic will triple. It will be the first great step relieving us from the isolation from the bay sections. Before the days of automobiles (and now there is one to every five people in California) the railroads and ferries partially solved the problem of getting travelers in and out of San Francisco and Oakland. We were somewhat on a par with other sections despite the handicap of being off the main line. With the marvelous growth of automobile travel and the tendency to drive fast and straight through, people have grown completely out of patience with localities which, in order to reach them, it was necessary to wait for boats or trains to depart at certain hours designated on time tables and then having to be ferried over a watery gap to find roads designed for the teams and stages of two generations ago. Cities and counties beset by such conditions and dependent upon obsolete service have been out of luck and lagged ten years behind the advance made by more favored localities. It has been an evident struggle for existence and were it not for superior natural advantages and the incomparable scenery and climate which urged motorists thither, valleys like Sonoma would be off the map.

With the building of the massive and modern type bridge across Carquinez Straits, we will at once be linked up with the outside world. Sonoma will be on the map as it never was before. What is more, when this bridge is built, it will spur on the San Francisco side of the bay to more intensive study of the bridge or tunnel across the Golden Gate. With all this part of the State pouring across the bridge to Oakland's markets, San Francisco will sit up and take notice.

Petaluma has tried hard to make that city 100 per cent for dry law enforcement. They had a little Volstead act and there have been countless raids, arrests and trials. Results have not been as expected and it will not be long before the most conservative will have to admit that only by the modification of the present prohibition act can public opinion be marshalled so that it will compel respectful observance of liquor laws and all laws. Our sister city, Petaluma, confesses, in the Petaluma Argus, its experience with present conditions. The Argus states:

"New bootleg joints are being uncovered every day. They are springing up in hotels, in private residences, and in all sorts of unusual places. Disregard for law grows more and more general instead of less general. Pretty soon everybody'll be 'doing it.' And the worst of it is there seems to be no way of combatting the evil. Bottles on the hip, specially contrived dumping drains—every contrivance conceivable for defeating the efforts of officials are resorted to. These things, with the apparent unwillingness of juries to convict, make bootlegging a popular—and exceedingly profitable—pastime. Enforcing the Wright Law will be more difficult than securing its adoption by the people."

DUAL ACCIDENT BEFALLS MOTORIST

Sal Campi Ran Into and Had Hip Broken and Was Later Thrown From Ambulance.

Sal Campi, an Oakland motorist who came to Sonoma with a truck last Saturday and was returning home, mired down in the newly graded road near the Schellville Service Station and was standing by the disabled machine when Richard Guilfoyle of Embarcadero came along in his car and failing to see the truck or its driver ran into Campi. The man was thrown to the ground and his hip broken. The truck had no lights, but a limousine standing close by did and Guilfoyle saw only the latter. He turned to pass the limousine and in the darkness ran into Campi.

The victim of the accident was brought to Dr. Hays' office, who when he saw the extent of Campi's injuries advised that he be taken at once to the sanitarium. He was given first aid treatment there and the following day an ambulance sent by his relatives from Oakland to convey the injured man to an east bay hospital. While proceeding along the road near the Lowell ranch with the patient, the ambulance driver ran off a grade, ditching the car with its helpless passenger.

Passersby finally righted the ambulance and it proceeded on its journey to Oakland with the unfortunate Campi.

FOUR CANDIDATES LEAD FIELD FOR JUDGE

Appointment of the successor to Superior Judge Emmet Seawell when he is elevated to the supreme bench of the state is a question being given much consideration by attorneys and the public at large, when the race for appointment by Governor Stephens seems to have narrowed down to four candidates.

J. R. Leppo, of Santa Rosa, F. A. Meyer of Petaluma, and E. M. Norton of Healdsburg, who might have been appointed, are understood to have definitely taken the stand that they will not give up their lucrative practices for the bench.

Selection then narrows down to U. S. Commissioner Hillard Comstock, City Attorney R. M. Barrett and Assistant District Attorney Ross Campbell, all of Santa Rosa, with a dark horse, Attorney Harry T. Kyle, just coming into the focal light of interest.

What strength Attorney Kyle will develop remains to be seen, but it is conceded that he is a strong contender for the position, ranking well up with the other three men mentioned for the appointment. —Santa Rosa Republican.

MALPRACTICE IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Coroner's Jury Inquiry In Case of Mrs. Rodney Prestwood Fails to Fix Responsibility.

The death of Mrs. Rodney Prestwood at Petaluma on November 11th which has been under investigation since that date, was caused by an illegal operation in that city, so evidence taken at the coroner's inquest last Monday night, went to show. The responsibility for the malpractice was not fixed, but it is understood that the case will be probed further by the county authorities.

Among witnesses from Sonoma at the inquest were Dr. A. M. Thomson, who had been Mrs. Prestwood's physician when she resided here and who operated on her at Crane's Sanitarium last spring. He testified that the young woman had never been in such good health as she was in a delicate condition. She called at his office a few days previous to her tragic end and intimated that she was in a delicate condition. She confided similar information to her girl friend, Miss Blanche Bianchini, who was also called as a witness at the inquest.

That the illegal operation was performed in Petaluma was ascertained by the autopsy which revealed that the unfortunate woman could not have traveled around driving her automobile after she visited the guilty physician's office. She was in Petaluma from early on the afternoon of the day she died. Testimony was to the effect she came to the hospital in a critical state, was operated on there in an effort to save her life, was taken from the operating table and seemed to rally, but later passed away. Her husband was summoned from San Rafael, but arrived too late to see his wife alive.

The following account of the inquest with the verdict is taken from a Petaluma paper:

An inquest into the cause of the death of Mrs. Louise Prestwood, who died recently at a Petaluma hospital following an emergency operation, was held by Coroner F. H. Phillips and a jury at the Frank L. Blackburn funeral parlors last night. The jury was composed of Arthur Matsen, Al Jones, Sam Peters, Harold R. Campbell, Frank Hamm and Earl Starke.

After hearing the evidence of a large number of witnesses, the jury returned the following verdict: "Death due to shock of surgical operation and a puncture performed by parties unknown."

Among witnesses examined were Henry Cailleand of San Rafael, father of deceased; Dr. Russell Morris, Dr. James Anderson, Dr. Thomson of Sonoma, Miss Blanche Bianchini of Sonoma, Dr. Jackson Temple and Dr. S. S. Bogle of Santa Rosa; Rodney Prestwood of Sonoma; Mrs. C. G. Allen, Mrs. Nellie I. Billings, Mrs. Jessie L. Hanson, Miss Mary Pozzi, Mrs. Ida Stotera and Mrs. Rose Cantel-Kent. Dr. Hubbell, who performed an autopsy for Coroner Phillips, also testified.

An Argus reporter was present at the inquest but the testimony was of such a nature that it cannot be published, especially in view of the nature of the verdict returned by the jury.

Coroner Phillips announced that he would not approve the verdict of the jury. The case will probably be laid before the grand jury for further investigation.

District Attorney G. W. Hoyle assisted Coroner Phillips in the conduct of the inquest and stenographic notes were taken of the evidence by Court Reporter H. Scott and by an expert stenographer from San Francisco. A number of attorneys were present at the hearing, among them being W. F. Cowan of Santa Rosa, Gil P. Hall and City Attorney F. J. Burke.

Chevrolet Superior Models

MORE than ever before the Chevrolet Motor Company has again emphasized its admitted leadership as producer of the world's lowest priced quality automobiles. The SUPERIOR Models at no higher prices than those of our preceding models, represent the most sensational values in modern economical transportation ever established. QUALITY has been still further improved by more artistic design and added equipment. ECONOMY has been still further increased by engineering refinements and greatly increased service facilities throughout the whole country. PRICES remain the same in spite of added equipment and more expensive construction which have materially increased values.

Unequaled In Style, Value, Economy

1923 SUPERIOR LINE CHEVROLET FIVE PASSENGER TOURING

A glance at this Superior Touring Car shows why it stands in a quality class of its own—incomparable. Here is an automobile which anyone can be proud to own, because of its up-to-the-minute style, complete, modern engineering, and the lowest operating costs of any 5-passenger automobile made.

1923 SUPERIOR LINE CHEVROLET TWO-PASSENGER ROADSTER

All these advantages apply with added force to the Superior Roadster, which, due to reduced passenger capacity, develops still lower mileage costs. No need to waste space with fulsome selling arguments. The American public knows automobile values. The spontaneous demand for the remarkable cars will tax even our greatly enlarged productive facilities.

1923 SUPERIOR LINE CHEVROLET TWO-PASSENGER UTILITY COUPE

The Superior Utility Coupe is bound to surpass the magnificent sales record of its 1922 predecessor. This is the world's lowest priced quality closed car, and far outdistances all competition in single seat closed automobiles.

1923 SUPERIOR LINE CHEVROLET FIVE PASSENGER SEDAN

The Superior Sedan, like our preceding Sedan, is the outstanding world leader in the all-year type of family car. Chevrolet has led the automobile world in the pronounced shift to closed cars and our five passenger sedan has been the chief reason. At no time during 1922 after the first general distribution of the Sedan, were we able to keep pace with our orders. With this Superior Model, improved in design, construction and added equipment, an even greater demand is anticipated that will maintain our position of leadership in the production of closed cars with Fisher bodies.

1923 SUPERIOR LINE CHEVROLET SEDANETTE

The Superior Sedanette is a new member of our line destined, we are confident, to achieve great popularity. It is designed especially for country club, social, shopping and general utility purposes, and as an extra car appealing especially to women. The trunk at rear is part of the regular equipment.

JIM SMALL LEAVES HOSPITAL

The many friends of Jim Small of Vineburg were pleased to see his smiling countenance on our streets after three weeks in the hospital. Mr. Small had his ribs broken when run down by an automobile and one of the ribs punctured his lung. Aside from this complication his recovery has been rapid despite his years. Jim speaks highly of the treatment he received at Crane's Sanitarium.

After a few days visit at the J. B. Small home, he will go to Bennett Valley where he will convalesce at the mountain home of his sister Mrs. James Cowan.

SCHOOLS IN FORESTS

A careful reading of many of the up-to-date books and pamphlets about children, schools, teachers and the increasing emphasis laid upon the vital importance of first class health as well as first class education, convinces the author of the present article that we need thousands of summer school camps in our mountains and forests. There is room for them as well as for the recreational and the week end camp centers now so abundant.

If any person with a work-a-day and well disciplined imagination will visit a few of the schools in warmer districts toward the time of summer vacation, not only in California, but anywhere in the United States, especially in factory towns, he will be impressed by the fagged-out look of teachers and children. If he thinks this out to conclusions, he will exclaim: "Why shouldn't every town that is working toward a summer camp center also plan for summer schools for young and old?"

Our own idea would be to have this whole subject discussed fully at teachers' institutes, in educational journals and by librarians (because every summer school ought to have lots of the best books for young and old, besides lectures, reading circles and outdoor community plays and pageants).

The slogans for such summer schools would be such as these:

Five days each week for study and work; especial attention to animal and vegetable life.

Overflowing health and happiness belong to every one.

Only the best books for all time, and all outdoors.

One might confidently expect that from among the children of such summer schools in California forests would come the lumbermen, the best foresters and the best educators of the future.

CHARLES H. SHINN,
 Forest Examiner.

We bespeak your attention to the budget prepared under authority of the amendment when it is laid before the legislature in January.

Very truly yours,

TURKEY PRICES SAME AS LAST HOLIDAYS

From the most reliable information obtainable it is safe to assume that there is a slight increase in the production of turkeys in most sections of the state, over last year. Although some growers are of the opinion that there is little or no increase in their immediate localities, many report an increased production ranging from 5 to 10 per cent over last year.

As an offset to this probable increase many turkey producers state that only a small per cent of their turkeys will be in marketable condition for the Thanksgiving and the Christmas trade.

Information as to prices being offered by wholesalers is very meagre, according to Fred N. Bigelow, Chief of the Division of Markets. From some sections comes the report that buyers are offering 38c per pound, on fat, live turkeys and a delivered price of 45c on well conditioned dressed turkeys. It seems reasonable to believe that prices on both live and dressed turkeys will not vary greatly from the prices paid last year during the holiday season.

If early receipts prove light, prices may soar above the 45c on dressed turkeys, while heavy shipments may act to the advantage of the buyer and consumer and bring lower prices. In most sections feed appears to be plentiful, while in a few localities growers plan to market their turkeys early because of a scarcity of feed. It is considered a very poor policy to ship turkeys not well conditioned, and farmers might advantageously hold back their shipments where feed is plentiful.

Local cold storage holdings are well cleaned up and total approximately 27,000 pounds of dressed turkeys. There were close to 100,000 pounds of dressed turkeys in cold storage on this date one year ago.

Farmers should be cautious in shipping only to reliable dealers and might well insist on a contract in writing and a reasonable deposit where turkeys are bought outright. Growers should not forget that the general appearance of the turkey is of very much importance and the usual instructions of dealers on the preparation of the birds for market should be closely followed.

"THE BEST GUY" WON

The humorous phases of election day incidents are coming to the surface now that the tense period of uncertain returns is past, and no one enjoys the comical side of life any better than the kindly jurist, Judge Seawell. The other day the Judge received a letter from Bakersfield from a former Santa Rosa neighbor who worked hard during the campaign to get votes for him. This is the comedy emanating from the Kern county city while Seawell's friend was electioneering for him November 7th, in the vicinity of the Bakersfield Free Market:

"Election day I had an experience which amused me," writes the former neighbor. "I had planned for William Gail to put the last of the stickers on autos that were taking people to the polls. But alas! The day before he fell and broke his leg. However, John Bidwell went early with me, to market, and tacked the stickers on telegraph poles as near the voting places as the law allowed."

"While we were distributing the literature, a lad, about 10 years old, came up and said: 'Give me two for my dog. I want to paste one on each side of him.'"

"I did not think it would be very dignified to have Judge Seawell's posters on a dog, so I explained they were for automobiles."

"What show are they for?" he asked.

"I replied: 'They are not for a show. They are for Judge Seawell, whom we hope will be elected. He loves boys and girls and tries to keep them from the reform school.'"

"Give me some and I'll put them on automobiles," he said. He went up and down the street yelling, 'Vote for Seawell! He's the best guy! He loves boys!'"

"In less than five minutes he had a sticker pasted on every automobile at the Free Market and came back, saying: 'Won't you give me two for my dog; he follows me every place I go.' I gave him two, and he went away happy, yelling:

"Vote for Seawell! He's the best guy! He loves boys!"

DEATH OF MRS.

JAMES SAPWELL

News has reached here of the death of Mrs. James Sapwell, wife of James Sapwell, a former Sonoma resident. The couple lived near the Wagon place on Patton street at one time, and later moved to Solano county, five miles from Vacaville, where the death of Mrs. Sapwell occurred. She had been a sufferer for many years from an incurable ailment of the stomach.

Besides the husband, grown children by a former marriage survive deceased. In her young days, Mrs. Sapwell had been a designer in Paris and was a specialist in bead work.

Fred Pohm, one of the owners of the former Lewis ranch, was in San Francisco Sunday on business connected with a contemplated trade of this fine ranch property for a San Francisco apartment house.

GRAND CHAMPION IS GOING TO CHICAGO

W. R. Harrison was in town on Thursday greeting admirers of his stock farm and incidentally mentioned that he will take his wonderful grand champion bull, Count Tickford, to the Chicago International Livestock Exhibition December 2 to 9.

Count Tickford is familiar to followers of stock shows on the Pacific Coast and has taken the grand champion medal wherever shown. With this prize Milking Shrothorn will go two of his get, a year old heifer and a two year old heifer.

There will be 15 animals at the Chicago show of the same class as the Count, five of whom, like Tickford, have never been beaten when in competition. Among those to be shown will be the present world grand champion, the property of a Colorado stock farm.

Mr. Harrison's magnificent and high bred animal weighs 2700 pounds and is so gentle the Harrison children ride on his back in stock parades.

PROPERTY RESOLD TO BERTELOTTI BROS.

Mr. and Mrs. Valette had a good opportunity in Ukiah and decided to transfer their interests there.
